1. The 17th Session of the National Interdepartmental Seminar was completed on 19 February. Overall, the CIA participation in the Seminar was highly commended by the Seminar participants. Most of the CIA lecturers were judged "outstanding" by the students. The next seminar is scheduled for 5-30 April.

2. During the mornings of the past week, I have been participating in a seminar on counterinsurgency with a group of Army officers from the Combat Developments Command who have the responsibility for preparing a revised Army doctrine for counterinsurgency. The group was invited to NIS by the Coordinator after a request from DoD. Other participants are members of the NIS faculty and [REDACTED] representing the [REDACTED] DDP. This type of seminar is within the mission of the NIS to assist other agencies in the development and dissemination of U.S. counterinsurgency doctrine. The seminar will continue through the next week.
